How to get to Greenwich Campus from Airports

From London City Airport

This is the closest airport to the University campus, via the Docklands Light Railway (DLR). From the airport, take the DLR towards Bank, change at Poplar for Cutty Sark. Coming out of the station, take left exit. The entrance to the University can be seen right ahead (approx. 20 min.).

Alternatively you can call a minicab (Greenwich Car Hire, Tel. +44 (0)20 8858 6661, charges around £14 for the journey). Black taxis are more expensive.

From Heathrow Airport

The airport is on the London Underground, Piccadilly Line. A service runs every 5-10 min. into Central London. Take underground to Charing Cross or London Bridge then a train to Greenwich or Maze Hill from either of these railway stations (approx. 1h50).

Alternatively, take underground to Canary Wharf via Piccadilly and Jubilee lines (changing at Green Park) then change to Docklands Light Railway (DLR) to Cutty Sark. Takes roughly the same time (1h50), but Cutty Sark is closest station to UoG.

From Gatwick Airport

Gatwick Airport has its own railway station. Take the “Thameslink” train to London Bridge (approx. 30 min.) and change at London Bridge for Greenwich or Maze Hill (another 15-20 min.).

There is no public parking on campus. Public car parks are available but parking spaces are limited. It is therefore advisable to use public transport wherever possible.

From central London, head for the A2. At New Cross take a left turn to Greenwich (A206). From North London to the Blackwall Tunnel follow signs for Greenwich. From M25, join the A2 (Junction 2) and follow signs for London and on to Greenwich (A206 Trafalgar Road).

How to get to Greenwich Campus by Riverboat

A regular service is available from Savoy Pier, Blackfriars, Bankside, London Bridge City, St Katherine's, Canary Wharf, Greenland & Masthouse Terrace to Greenwich Pier, which is adjacent to the campus. The journey takes 35 min. and is probably the fastest way to travel from central London.
